

From our family to yours,

We recognize this is a tough time for everyone and especially people who have a loved one in the hospital.

We know you must feel helpless and scared.

Here are a few tips for you and your family as we face this time of living with COVID-19.

- Families can make arrangements with their social worker and or nurse to drop off family photos to be placed by their loved one's bedside.
- Arrange a time to talk to your loved one with a nurse if they do not have a cell phone and need assistance.
- Work together with your case manager or nurse to create a time for a daily updates.
- Your loved one can use the hospital's iPad for FaceTime or Google hangout to communicate with you and your family. All they need to do is ask their healthcare provider.

If you have any concerns, please call the Nurses Station at your hospital and ask to speak to the Nurse Supervisor.

Thank you –

Judy K. Weaver, R.N., M.B.A., B.S.N.
Executive Vice President, Clinical Quality and Chief Clinical Officer
Chief Executive Officer of Acuity Specialty Hospital of Ohio Valley